Jefferson County
Trussville Alabama 35173

Lat: 33° 40' 18"N, Lon: 86° 33' 06"W
T16S R7W Section 4

To reach this cemetery from downtown Trussville, take U. S. Highway 11E north about 4.5 miles to the intersection of Camp Mary Monger Road which exits to the left. Take Camp Mary Monger Road to the intersection of Happy Hollow Road and Advent Circle. Follow Advent Circle to the right across Interstate I-59 for about 3 tenths of a mile and make an immediate right onto a small dirt road which will take you about 30 feet to a closed gate. This road runs about 3 tenths of a mile alongside the southbound lanes of I-59 to the cemetery.

It is an easy walk from the gate. It is in a heavily wooded area. It can also be accessed from exit 143 of I-59 via Deerfoot Parkway and Happy Hollow Road, the latter of which parallels the northbound lanes of I-59 to Advent Circle.

The cemetery is fenced and well kept. There are perhaps 30 graves marked only by stones. Some may not be marked at all. Some graves may be those of slaves. Many of the stones are made of sandstone which have deteriorated over the years.

The cemetery is marked by signs indicating that it is the Massey Pioneer Cemetery and the Massey Historical Cemetery.

I completed transcribing this cemetery on Mar 27, 2007. It is a complete listing of all existing and legible stones in the cemetery.
